

BX51WI fixed stage microscope

The ideal upright microscope for physiological experiments such as patch clamping and intravital microscopy. Interchanging low/high magnifications without changing objectives coupled with a revolutionary concept in vibration-free design, the BX51WI offers the ultimate image clarity for electrophysiological experiments - a new concept in live cell observation...Read More

