

BX61WI motorized fixed stage microscope

The BX61WI is the fully motorized version of the BX51WI and is an ideal upright microscope for automated physiological experiments. The system is built to the same exacting frame and optical standards as the BX51WI and is motorized to enable fully automated operation...Read More

